

Doctor Hoy's Natural Longeviti Plus®

Longeviti Plus Powder® is a multi-mineral/multi-vitamin powdered food supplement. Longeviti Plus® provides your body with the maximal combination of ingredients needed to facilitate healthy and progressive rejuvenation. Many of the ingredients provide nutrients to the friendly bacteria in the intestinal system. Other ingredients feed the vitally important mucosal cells. Longeviti Plus® is also loaded with a multitude of powerful antioxidants and antioxidant precursors.

Longeviti Plus® has been designed to provide the body with a synergistic blend of ultra-high quality ingredients. Longeviti Plus® is intended to be as hypoallergenic as possible. Eggs, wheat, milk, yeast, corn, artificial food colorings, additives, preservatives, artificial flavors and refined sugars have all been left out. These products can cause, and in some cases, have been shown to cause, allergic and intolerance symptoms.

Longeviti Plus® is not a 100% catchall meal replacement that will do everything. What Longeviti Plus® does do is nourish. The logical question, then, is 'what does it nourish' and 'how does it nourish.'

Bodies malfunction for two reasons; eating the wrong foods and a very weak digestive system. Longeviti Plus addresses both of these issues. Longeviti Plus® is designed to provide basic vitamins and minerals along with adequate protein, carbohydrates and fats. It also contains very special ingredients that will assist in the nourishing and healing of the digestive system. The cells that line the digestive tract are the most critical to proper digestion and yet the first to be destroyed by toxins and waste that accumulate in our tract.

Longeviti Plus® can be consumed as a meal replacement when replacing a single meal daily. It is of greatest benefit when it is taken as a supplement with your meals. Longeviti Plus® includes as its primary sweetening source a patented product called EnergySmart®. EnergySmart® has been designed to address the specific concerns diabetics and all other individuals who are concerned about insulin levels and sugar absorption have.

The fruit juices in EnergySmart® are a highly effective and well-balanced source of quick energy. EnergySmart® contains specially developed complex carbohydrates derived from select grains, which provide up to 50% longer-lasting energy, as proven in independent testing.

EnergySmart® speeds post-exercise recovery by rapidly re-establishing the baseline level of blood glucose while also quickly replenishing minerals that were lost during exercise. EnergySmart® helps you lose weight. It keeps blood glucose levels above the fasting baseline. This process blocks the hunger response that is stimulated when blood glucose levels drop below baseline, as occurs following the consumption of sugar and artificial sweeteners. EnergySmart® has a less severe glycemic effect than sucrose. It causes a slower rate of change in blood glucose and does not stimulate a hypoglycemic response. It has none of the laxative side effects or safety issues associated with polyols, nor the health and safety concerns of artificial, high-intensity sweeteners.
